About AIPM

The Australian Institute of Project Management (AIPM) is the largest project management community in Australasia incorporating individual members; corporate members; industry groups and communities of practice.

Formed in 1976, as the Project Managers' Forum, AIPM has been instrumental in representing and promoting the profession of project management for more than 30 years.

Today AIPM has over 8,500 members Australia wide and overseas across all levels of management linked to a vast variety of industries. With over 170 corporate members, 60% of AIPM's membership resides within our Corporate Memberships who encourage and support their project managers to be involved with AIPM.

AIPM has chapters in all states and territories and a National Support Office based in the Sydney CBD.

Our Role

The role of AIPM is to improve the knowledge, skills and competencies of project team members, project managers and project directors; all of whom play a key role in the achievements of business objectives.

AIPM aims to ensure that people involved at all levels of business, government and community understand the key role project management plays in today's society.

Why become a student member?

AIPM provides a wealth of resources for students to successfully undertake studies to become proficient and competent Project Managers.

AIPM offers membership benefits at a subsidised student rate to encourage individuals to pursue a career in project management and assist their studies to gain qualification to be eligible as an Associate Member of AIPM.

Benefits

Student members will receive benefits such as:

- Discount registration fees to the Annual AIPM National Conference
- Discount registration fees for the Project Management Achievement Awards (PMAA)
- Access to the Information Resource Centre (IRC), providing members with exclusive and comprehensive research services including;
  - Full-text articles
  - Monthly updates on the latest project management literature (PM Select)
  - Survey results
  - Online collection of strategic and industry-oriented bibliographies
  - Online archive of Australian and international books and journals
  - Resources on project management from our member-only Project Management Research Library
  - Access to online discussion forums, regular events, seminars and functions held by AIPM Chapters in all states and territories
- FREE access to our member-only project management jobs on the AIPM website
- Member discount program for professional indemnity (PI) insurance.

How to join

To be eligible for student membership you are required to be a full time student enrolled at any faculty or institution. A part time student undertaking a project management course with an AIPM Endorsed Course Provider is also entitled to apply for Student Membership.

Evidence of enrolment from the course provider will need to be provided at the time of application. Visit www.aipm.com.au to apply online for student membership.

New members of AIPM will receive their membership number and website login password within approximately 7 to 10 days of approval of their application.

Upon completion or receipt of qualification, part-time student members will be eligible for recognition as an Associate of the AIPM and will need to complete an Upgrade Membership Application form found on the AIPM website. Full-time students need to complete a new online Associate Member Application.
